Chapteller Von Caprist Would Resten Should Exceptional Measures Be Passed
The New Swiss Law Against Anarchists-Cholern in the Victula Basis, BERLIN, July 29,-The dissensions of the Minsters over the policy to be pursued toward the Anarchists, have become acute. Count Botho gu Eulenburg, the Tory Premier of Prussia, leads the Ministerial group who demand exceptional Democratic propaganda. Dr. Hinspeter, once the Emperor's tutor, is said to be exerting all his influence in favor of Eulenburg's proposals.
The Emperor is said to be undecided. While inclined to favor repressive laws, he fears to oppose Chancellor von Caprivi, who would undoubtedly resign his office the moment the Eulenburg programme should be adopted. One way out of the dilemma has been suggested probably at the Emperor's instance—and that is to lay the whole subject before the Federal Council, not in the form of a bill, but merely as matter for discussion. The opinion of the federated governments could be obtained thus without the imperial Government being committed to any definite policy. The new Swiss law against Anarchists went into effect on Wednesday. The first case in which it was applied was that of Paul Sisternas, notorious Anarchist who was expelled from ce in 1891. He sought refuge in Geneva and there continued to plot. Under this new law he was expelled. The German newspapers trast such decisive action of the free little republic in handling revolutionists with the fish policy of England. The Swiss law is certainly severe enough to please the most reaconary Prussian. It provides five years' imciting to acts which imperil human life or of working to upset the presesent social litical order. It penalizes heavily the manufacture and the illegal possession of exsives. It gives the Government power to expel any native or foreign Anarchist, and to pun-ish anybody failing to denounce those who are known to be plotting anarchic crimes.

The editors of German Social Democratic journals printed in Zurich and Basic are preparing to move their offices, probably to Lonconservative journals here praise Switzerland for passing this law, which they regard as an example to Germany.

Hoessil, who was a non-unionist, was attacked by the strikers and was beaten to death. At a reunion of German workingmen several weeks afterward Asprion boasted that he struck the fatal blow, and induced his comrades to subscribe a fund for his escape. With he money thus obtained he paid his expenses while waiting to embark. He had several German accomplices, among them Schnitzler, Chairman of the Strike Committee. Most of them have been arrested.

Prince Bismarck has consented to receive a Posen delegation of 700 at Varzin the first week in September, and he is expected to give them a raview and defence of his policy toward the Social Democrats. The Hamburger Nachrichten said this week, in an article defending his repressive laws, that Bismarck never feared the dangers threatened by the Social Democrats, and declined to have a guard of secret police until the old Emperor commanded it.

The editor of the Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zettung replies: "That is a coarse and inexcusable insinuation. Surely the Hamburger Nachrichten cannot believe that the Social Democrats can keep Caprivi in power any more than they did Prince Bismarck."

Beversi battalions of pioneer troops, who had been ordered out to practise bridge building on the Vistula in August, have been relieved of this service indefinitely owing to the spread of this service indefinitely owing to the spread of the interview of the present of the physicians corps in East Prussia. It is impossible to get a clear idea of the spread of the disease as the boatmen conceal whenever possible all deaths from cholers and refuse even to report cases of sickness. The Vistula and its tributaries have been declared infected, yet the boatmen and their families still drink the water. Outside the Vistula basin there have been only a few isolated cases of cholera or cholerine in Prussia.

The Emperor's liking for aquatic sports has infused the officers of the guards to form a rowing club in Potsdam and a yacht club in Friedrichshagen. Honn, Berlin, and Breslau universities are forming crews to compete at Grunau in 1895 for the Emperor's University prize. The sporting journals here say they hope soon to see American and English crews in the German regattas. As the Emperor hoped, the sudden craze for athletics has begun to interfere with excessive beer drinking at the universities. Three clubs in Leipsic have decided to abandon the morning drinking bouts known as Fruehscoppen, and several Bonn clubs are about to do the same thing.

The Berlin committee for the striking journeymen brewers have collected a fund of 55,000 marks, of which they have spent but 26,000. Large subscriptions are expected as the result of the boycotters' mass meetings on Friday.

The Prince and Princess Ferdinand of Bulgaria were in Bayreuth and Coburg last week and are now back in Carlsbad. The Russian Sect says the Prince has professed readiness to embrace the orthodox Russian creed, have his heir baptized in the orthodox Church, and reinstate in the Bulgariah army all the military emigrants, if, in return, the Caar will only recognize him as Prince of Bulgaria.

LIVE WASHINGTON TOPICS.

Business that Will Pagage the Attention of Congress This Week. WASHINGTON, July 29,—Omitting the Tariff bill from the calculations as to what may take place in the Senate, there is every indication that the end of the week will see all the appropriation bills safely out of the way. Mr. Cockrell, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, expects to get the Sundry Civil bill-that vehicle which carries everything not otherwise provided for out of the committee room by Monday night, to be reported Tuesday morning. He will call it up at once for cons eration. He then expects to have the Defi-ciency bill in such shape that he can follow the Sundry Civil with it when needed. This will complete the appropriation bills and leave the Senate free to discuss tariff or to threaten adjournment if delays are interposed.

Congress has already been disposed of, and the are now simply waiting on the conference committees to give them an opportunity to settitude differences between the two branches over those measures upon which the House has already once passed. No programme has been arranged for next week, further than that Wednesday will be devoted to the Moore-Funston contested election case from Kansas. Moore is a Democrat seeking to get Funston's seat, and the majority of the committee have reported in his knyor. A meeting of the Committee on Rules will be held on Monday morning to decide what committees shall have the sessions of Monday and Tuesday for the consideration of business. The Indian and Naval Committees will probably be the favored ones. The other days in the week will be apportioned later if it shall then be found desirable to continue the policy of parceling out the time. The programme is always subject to interruption by conference reports, and there are six appropriation bills, besides the Tariff bill, which are likely at any time to come in and vary the proceedings. for record purposes to pass at this session the Committee on Labor, in an elaborate report recommending the passage of the Springer bill creating a national board for the arbitration of controversies between employees and their employers, says that the bill does not assume to compel arbitration where neither party to the controversy is willing to submit its case. No new penalties are imposed or new rights or privileges granted. The report quotes extensively from reports of the Commissioner of Labor showing the cost of strikes, and says:

"These facts should admonish Congress of the great importance of providing arbitration and a peaceful settlement of such controversies to the extent of the powers of Congress under the Constitution. It is believed that the bill reported goes as far as Congress can in the premises. In short, the beneficial results which the committee desire to accomplish by this legislation are: First, to dignify labor; second to remove the unrest in the industrial world; third, to provide a peaceful means for the settlement of labor controversies; fourth, to save millions of money to both labor and capital, and to insure public peace."

PARMER ALT'S FATAL SHOT.

He Says that Its Victim, a Young Negro, Attacked Him with a Rasor, BAYSIDE, L. I., July 29,-Farmer John Alt of this village shot and killed Warren Frost, a negro, during a quarrel in Cedar Lane, about two miles southeast of this village, shortly after 12 o'clock last night. The shooting occurred in front of Obbiemeyer's Hotel at a place known as Bumblebees' Nest, and is said to have been the outcome of a feud of a year's standing.

Frost was about 21 years old, and was very strong. According to the residents in that section, while not serving time in jall he worked among the farmers. He was last employed by William Wicks. Alt is a widower, 37 years old, and runs a farm of his own. He has the reputation of being an orderly, inoffensive person.

The two men met in Obbiemeyer's Hotel last night. Frost was accompanied by his step-brother, William Stewart of Flushing, and sev-eral others. According to witnesses, Frost ac-eral others. According to witnesses, Frost accused Alt of trying to shoot him a year ago. He applied vile epithets to Alt until the farmer left the place. When Frost and his companions followed him outside, Alt stood his ground and the row was renewed.

The controversy reached a crisis when Frost's half brother, Stewart, struck Alt in the right eye, knocking him down. As he struggled to his feet, Alt asserts, Frost made for him with an open razor in his hand. Jumping back, Alt drew his pistol and fired at the advancing negro. The buillet struck Frost in the right breast just under the nipple and went clear through his bedy.

under the nipple and went clear through his bedy.

What occurred in the next hour and a half is not definitely known. Frost was permitted to lie in the roadway where he fell, while Alt returned to his home unmolested. Deputy Sheriff William Strumpfler of Creedmoor says it was 2 o'clock when some one knocked at his door and informed him that there was a man shot in Cedar Lane.

Accompanied by Dr. Jones, Strumpfler hurried to the spot. Frost died about five minutes after their arrival. Later Alt went before Justice James Kane, in this village, and gave himself up. Coroner Schenck of Great Neck took charge of the case, and Frost's body was removed to Flushing. Alt was taken to the Queens county

THE HAWAIIAN ROYALISTS. Arrival of the Delegation in Chicago-Their

Mission and Expectations. CHICAGO, July 29.—The representatives of the Hawaiian royalists arrived in Chicago this vening over the Santa Fé Railroad.

The party consists of H. E. Widemann, formerly Chief Justice under the monarchy; Samuel Parker, ex-Prime Minister; J. A. Commins, and Major Seward, the latter acting as an aide to the Commissioners. They arrived too late to take the evening train to Washington and will remain in Chicago until to-morrow afternoon. Mr. Widemann, acting as spokesman for his colleagues, said to a reporter for the United Press that they were going to the national capital in the interests of justice. They could not say they would be received as a delegation by the President, yet they hoped to gain a hearing from Mr. Cleveland or the Secretary of State.

They had no idea, however, as to the measure of success which would accompany their mission, the primary object of which is to induce the United States Government to refuse to recognize the new republic of Hawaii. The Commissioners expected to receive important official despatches from home when they arrived here, but not getting them will await their arrival at Washington.

Mr. Parker intimated that the new Hawaiian Constitution was inoperative, because in some parts of the republic the Government had been unable to obtain citizens to serve as jurors. The Constitution requires all jurors to take the eath of allegiance to the new republic and to abjure all help in restoring the monarchy in any form. colleagues, said to a reporter for the United

HAWAII'S NEW JURY SYSTEM.

It Causes Some Trouble in Setting Jurers in the Country Districts.

HONOLULU, July 21, via San Francisco, July 29.—The jury system under the new Constitu-tion is causing some trouble in the country districts. The Constitution requires all jurors to take the eath of allegiance to the new republic and to abjere all help in restoring the monarchy in any form. In one country district it has been impossible to get enough jurors to serve, the Honolulu royalists having sent out a circular stating that no answer had yet been received as to President Cleveland's intended action, and warning the natives to keep out of politics and to take no oaths of allegiance.
Even the most ardent royalists, however, have little hope that the Commission recently sent to Washington will be able to accomplish anything in Liliuokalani's behalf.

One evidence of public faith in the new Government was shown just before the steamer

MADE HOLES IN THE STEEPLE. Queer Etgang Franks of the Lightning in

Nonwich, Conn., July 29. The Broadway Church steeple was wrecked to-day. It be longed to the wealthiest and most fashionable congregation in town. A black thunder tempest that shook the rock-ribbed hills did it. The steeple was one of the tallest in the Nutmer State, soaring 200 feet toward the sky. For thirty years people have wondered that a thunderbolt never took a shot at it. At 1 o'clock this afternoon, twenty minutes after its large congregation had rustled out of the edifice and a flock of Sunday school children streamed away from its doors, the lightning gunner targeted on the lofty spire just once, and that was enough. The projectile was a blazing fire ball, half as big as a balloon, so Florist Geduldig's daughter in her cottage window the peak of distant Jail Hill affirms, and she saw the peak of distant Jail Hill affirms, and she saw it sip and counter on the brick shaft pretty near the top. Others saw it, too, and they, as well as Miss Geduldig, declare that the steeple instantly exploded in half a dozen different places in a great cloud of flying bricks, smashed woodwork, lath, and plaster that fell on the city like lava from a volcane. A great many church steeples have been hit by lighting now and again, but never was one done up so fantastically before.

After the shower of bricks and dust had partly cleared away, it was seen that the great tower still stood, but it is the queerest looking spire in the world. It had been skeletonized, it looks exactly like the frame of a long tobacco leaf whose green vegetable filling, either by disease or a predatory insect, has been pricked out of it. The thunderbolt evidently worked in and out of the spire, just as a sewing machine needle works holes in ladies' lace edging, and here and there, all about the tower, it bit right clean through it. It is now a very pretty sample of long brick open-work edging set up on end. Or it may answer for a strainer for the wind to sport with. As a church steeple, it is altogether foo porous, and it will cost the society several thousand dollars to replace it with a whole one.

Stranger even than the zigzag in-and-out, ricochetting, sewing-machine-needle performance of the pig fire bail was the wild and rictous place it with a whole one.

Stranger even than the zigzag, in-and-out, ricochetting, sewing-machine-needle performance of the hig fire bail was the wild and rictous way in wight it hurled bricks all about the town. Court House square in front of the church was sown ankle deep with broken brick and mortar, and the ground-up debris was almost as thick in the street at the doors of the handsome Central Baptist Church, twenty rods away, so on the sidewalk immediately beneath the riddled spire. The cyclone of falling rubbish was hurled in every direction, and bits of flying brick punctured holes in window panes as far eastward as Franklin street. One brick scurried through a window pane into the office of the Norwich Erening Record, ten rods to the north of the edifice. It is due solely to the fact that a rattling shower had driven every one indoors that people were not hurt.

In the huge square tower at the base of the spire the lightning ripped gaping rents, big enough for a street dray to be driven through. The structural damage is of so serious a nature that no one dares enter the splintered edifice or even go very near it. The lightning was of a frightfully wicked brand. It jingled all the public bells, burned out telephones and telegraph lines, smashed shade trees and lanced the earth repeatedly. The thunder roared continuously. Just before the storm the mercury was 130 degrees in the sun.

The Weather. The intense heat wave still had its crest over the Middle, Atlantic, and New England States yesterday, and the heat was greater in the morning than on Saturday morning and at most points as high in the after noon as on Saturday afternoon. The range of maximums was between 92° and 95°. The humidity was lower than on Saturday, the average for the day being 62 per cent., against 74 per cent. on Saturday, and the wind was from four to five miles an hour brisker. It now looks as if the heat wave had reached its

It now looks as if the heat wave had reached its height in this region. The low pressure which passed over the lake region is gradually passing merrity off over Canada. A trough of moderately low pressure that is still hanging over the lakes is likely to be dissi-pated to-day, in which case rather cooler weather will set in. In any event the high cannot be as great as on Saturday and resterday, for it is now becoming cooler to the westward.

In this city preterday the lowest temperature was 76° at 6 A. M., and the highest 05° at 4 P. M.; average humidity 62 per cent.; wind southwest; average velocity, 10 miles an hour; barometer corrected to read to sea level at 8 A. M. 29.99, 8 P. M. 29.94. Thunder shower in the evening.

Touch of Water. There were several mad-dog scares on the east side yesterday, and three dogs, after alarming mobs of people, were shot by pelicemen between 6 A. M. and midday.

A black retriever belonging to Mrs. Strumpf of 118 East Fourth street terrorized a whole block at 11 A. M. He had been affected by the heat and had acted strangely all night. About 11 o'clock in the morning he began to howl, and trotted about the apartment chewing up the furniture. Mrs. Strumpf declared that her pet had hyaterics, and, with the aid of George Browne, who lives next door, she put him under the pump and drenched him. No sooner did the water touch the dog than he bounded out of Browne's hands and dashed through the window and through the hallway into the street. Scores of men and boys chased him up and down the block for nearly an hour before they caught him. The dog was wounded in the sentile with a batchet, but he crawied under a cast and escaped his enemies until Policeman Larkin put two bullets into him.

Officer Rath of the East Sixty-seventh street station was also called to dispose of a dog which was acting in a peculiar manner in East Seventy-first street. The dog was howling, and from his mouth hung a string of foam, but instead of attacking any one he ran into a grocery, where the officer shot him. Another dog, which was supposed to be mad, was shot at 405 Cherry street by Policeman Curley. This dog bit no one, but howled and ran about the yard wildly. heat and had acted strangely all night. "GUT HEILS" TO THE WINNERS.

The Turners Receive Fried for Good Work at the Turnfest, DOLORVILLE, July 29.—The most picturesque eceme of the turnfest yesterday was that on the serraces of High Falls Park, when the turners gathered to receive the prizes won in the games of the past two days. Each verein carried banners and flags. Rochester had a queer, masont in the shape of a plump doll in turners' gray and yellow hair. It was mounted on a staff and wreathed in the national colors. The Rochester lads and lasses confidently be lieve that their first place in the events of the week was fue to it. The people gathered around the turners, and the bright colors and animated crowd made a pretty picture against the background of the grove. The wreath of silvered leaves, denoting the first place in society contests, was hung upon the Rochester banner with an enthusiastic chorus of "gut hells." Buffalo was the second and Syracuse the third. The first three in each award received wreaths. All other prizes were diplomas describing the nature of their victories. The presentations were finade by Charles Dedicke, first speaker of the Dolgeville Turn Dedicke, first speaker of the Dolgeville Turn Verein. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested when Leonora Amman of Syracuse was crowned for surpassing all competitors in swinging the Indian clubs. Similar enthusiasm was shown when Lottle Lochman was adorned with a double wreath, one for the Buffalo ladies' section, which was first in class work, and one for being the champion girl fencer. DR. BOULLEE HIT WITH A HATCHET. Runs from His Own House Bleeding-Refases to Tell Who Hit Him,

People passing through Hudson street, near Canal, at about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon saw a man in his shirt sleeves and with a bleeding head rush out upon the stoop of the little red brick house at 186. Dr. Joshua C. Boullee, a physician well known in the Fifth ward, lives at that number, and a policeman who ran to assist the wounded man was astonished when he found that it was the doctor himself. When asked to tell how he got hurt Dr. Boullee first refused to make any explanation.

Later he said that he had trouble with his wife, and that some one thad struck twice with a hatchet. He was taken to the Leonard street a hatchet. He was taken to the Leonard street station, but there he refused to make any complaint. He had two severe scalp wounds, which were dressed at Chambers Street Hospital. Nothing was to be learned at the house, The Doctor's brother-in-law, Denis Fogarty, is an ex-policeman who several years ago was a detective sergeant on Inspector Byrnes's staff. Mrs. Boulee is Fogarty's sister. When Fogarty was dismissed from the force, his sister, it is said, sheltered him for some time, but the Doctor finally insisted on his leaving. Lately Fogerty has been frequenting the house again, getting all his meals there, while the Doctor has got his atrestaurants. Fogarty, it is understood, was present when the assault occurred last night. Dr. Boullee refused to talk about the matter.

A COMMA SAVED HIS LIFE.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 29,-Jesse H. Jones, 19 years old, owes his escape from the gallows to the use of a comma in the Judge's charge. Jones was charged with the murder of two Jones was charged with the murder of two brothers named Hibdon, with whom he travelled through Arkansas. They camped one night in an unoccupied house. The next morning the charred bones of the Hibdons were found. Jones's trial was hurried forward, and on April 9 he was sentenced to death. A stay was secured pending an appeal.

The opinion of the Supreme Court came in yesterday. It is pointed out that by the misplacement of a comma in the Judge's charge the Judge appears to have made an error.

NATIONAL ROWING REGATTA. Arrangements Made for Holding the Event

Bet. Park Place & Murray St.

at Maratoga, Arrangements have been completed for the twenty-second annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, to be held at Saratoga Lake, Aug. 10 and 11. The entries are nearly all in Secretary Fortmeyer's hands, and will be made known either to-morrow or Wednesday of this week. From present indica tions the event will be very successful and will attract an Immense crowd of aquatic-loving persons from all parts of the country.

The course is beautifully located about four miles from Saratoga village, and is surrounded by high bluffs, which afford an excellent view. Saratoga Lake is about nine miles long and three miles at its widest part. The course is situated at its extreme northern end, and is well protected from the winds. All the races, excepting the eight-oared shell events, are one nile and a half, with a turn. The eight-oared races are one mile and a half, straightaway. To the winners of the junior singles, double sculls, pair oars, junior four oars, and senior eights will be presented challenge cups and plate of the National Association; individual gold medals will be given to every winning arsman or sculler, together with some silk banner to his club. Col. A. B. Hilton, some silk banner to his club. Col. A. B. Hilton, on behalf of the Saratoga A. A., has also offered a $500 silver challenge cup to be competed for by the senior eight-oared shells.

According to Secretary Fortmeyer, the arrangements and management will be perfect. The affair is in charge of the following committee in Saratogs: Willard Lester, Chairman, George A. Farnum, William Hay Bockes, C. W. Mitchell, Dr. E. V. Deuell, R. G. Smith, and M. S. Cumings. Jim Robinson is the committee's general manager. The course has been carefully measured and flagged at every eighth of a mile. Two large tents have been erected for the accommodation of boats, and two steamboats have been chartered, one for the referee and officials and the other for the press, All the hotels have made specially reduced rates for the convenience of visitors, and the railroads will sell excursion tickets below the regular prices.

Although the entry list has not been given out.

will sell excursion tickets below the regular prices.

Although the entry list has not been given out for publication, it is pretty well known who some of the leading contestants will be. In the senior singles Hedley will probably start, together with John J. Kyan of Toronto, last year's winner, and Donoghue of the same place. In the senior doubles the Vespers and the Donoghue brothers of Newburgh will probably be among thesstarters. The New York Athletic Club, the Chicagos, and the Minnesotas of Nt. Paul are regarded as formidable candidates for honors in the senior four-cared shells. In the eight-oared shells the Riversides of Boston, the Tritons of Newark, and the Minnesotas will be among those entered.

Newark, and the Minnesotas will be among those entered.

The Regatta Committee is composed of Conrad Bereas of Philadelphia, Charles Catlin of Chicago, Theodore Van Raden of this city, Walter Stimpson of North Cambridge, Mass., and Fred R. Fortmeyer of Newark, N. J. The events to be contested are junior and senior single sculls, double-scull shells, pair-oared shells, junior and senior four-oared shells, senior and intermediate eight-oared shells. According to the rules of the association, an amateur is defined in the following paragraph: wing paragraph:

lowing paragraph:

There are no loopholes in this, and the events, as a rule, are remarkably free from anything like professionalism. The winners of the various events last year at the regatta held at Detroit were as follows:
